The organisation Healios is looking for families with children aged five to 11 who live in the UK to get involved in a short online study.

Did you know around 700,000 people in the UK are autistic?

Our research will help to improve the autism assessment process and support more people around the world.

Step one: Complete a short three-minute survey

Step two: Our team will be in touch if you can take part

Step three: If eligible, you will be invited to complete the research which will involve the young person completing fun tasks on a mobile app and answering a few questions about your child

Step four: Once completed, you will be paid £20 per hour for your time as a thank you

The research is not a test for autism. And the child does not need to be autistic to participate.

Did You Know...

At Camden Town Library on Saturday 11th November there is a special event entitled Maths on toast - 5,4,3,2,1 blast off! It is an interactive maths drop-in session for kids aged 6-11 based around rocket-building. The children must be accompanied by an adult and the library say the children will practise essential maths skills like measurement, comparison and data recording while counting down to a thrilling launch'. If you take your child to the event, do let us know how they got on!

Learning this week in...

Holly Class

The children in Nursery dived into our book of the week 'Little Glow'. They learnt about how fireworks are used in lots of festivals. As a class we talked about Bonfire Night and watched a video of a fireworks display. The children then created their own firework pictures using paint and a range of techniques. They scraped, stamped, dripped and squirted different colour paint to create their own pieces.

Well done Holly Class!

Reception Phonics Coffee Morning

Thank you to all the parents who came to the Reception coffee morning. We had a great turn-out, where parents were able to watch parts of a phonics lesson and learn about how we teach phonics and reading in Reception.

Our next coffee morning for Year 1 parents will be on Friday 17th November.

Dear God,
Thank you for the book - Jenna
Thank you for fireworks- Valentino
Thank you for babies- Louie
Thank you family- Guinevere
Amen

Our Christian Value this term is: Thankfulness

This week's prayer was written by Holly Class.
